

mayor with council of nine, on commission plan.

New York.—War between wholesale ice dealers brought about almost unbelievable situation. The Knickerbocker ice trust pleaded with its competitors to lower their prices as it had done. They refused.

Lowell, Mass.—Geo. A. Richardson, member of wealthy family, who became a recluse after running down and killing man with auto one year ago, shot and killed himself.

Joliet, Ill.—Albert E. Welsh killed himself because his father left him only $50 and left his wife $950.

New York.—W. L. Stow & Co., which failed for $7,000,000 on Wall Street, has brought suit for $2,000,000 against Clarence Mackay, head of the Postal Telegraph Co. Mackay recently left the country.

Rochester, Minn.—Operation on brain failed to restore memory of "J. C. R.," the man without a past.

Cleveland, O.—John D. Rockefeller is seventy-four today. Shows no signs of dying.

Fort Worth, Tex.—Woman's voice saved blind John A. Sullivan from being run down by street car five months ago. Yesterday he recognized the voice again and today he got a license to marry it. It is owned by Mrs. Vernie Bagwell.

Paris.—Agnes MacDuff committed suicide just to find out what came after death. Presumably she's happy now.

London.—Zelie Emerson of Jackson, Mich., has been jailed again for militant suffragetteing.

New York.—President Wilson reported to be ready to intervene to prevent strike of 100,000 Eastern trainmen.

Cincinnati, O.—Lena Wopperer, 16, tried to save father, John Wopperer, from burning to death. Both will die.

London.—Police started to raid one of smartest gambling clubs in Mayfair, but quit when they learned that the Grand Duke of Mchlenburg-

Strelitz and a member of the royal family were in the house.

Los Angeles.—International Christian Endeavor Convention is planning national campaign for enactment of "dry" amendment to the federal constitution.

Memphis.—Committee of Commercial Club appointed to find out why auto accidents were increasing decided it was because of split skirts and the distraction caused thereby.

Ottawa, Ont.—The Rev. Omar Gagnon, professor of St. Vincent de Paul College, gave up his own life in saving Gaston Richter, a young pupil, from drowning.

Horwich, Eng.—The residence of Sir W. H. Lever at Rivington Hill was burned today by suffragets. Loss in rare tapestries and pictures incalculable.

Evansville, Ind.—Judge McCoy ruled that a woman has a legal right to say damn if she's mad and dismissed Mrs. Kate Graham, who used it in an argument with her landlord.

Brussels.—Trunks of Princess Louise, daughter of late King Leopold, seized on claim of hotelkeeper who says she owes him 19,000 francs.

Paris.—W. K. Vanderbilt must pay $4,000 to cop run down by his auto truck driven by a stableman. Going back to America now where such things never happen.

New York.—It took Johnny Inselberg, 7, one minute to stick one foot into a sidewalk gas shut-off to "find out how deep it was." It took workmen two hours to get Johnny's foot out again.

Washington.—United States bureau of fisheries used 3,640,000,000 fish eggs in the past year.

WEATHER FORECAST

For Chicago and vicinity; generally fair weather, except probably a local thunder shower tonight or Wednesday; somewhat higher temperature tonight; moderate southerly winds shifting to westerly Wednesday.